"This is my first time running a relay for Texas A&M. It's a great experience just to come out here and to know this was our 7th time to get out here and run against all these people, we came out here and dominated. It was a great feeling." "I came out here in high school but it's nothing compared to getting out in this environment and run on a collegiate team that's well known."

Claudia Saunders
Anchor - Stanford University
Opening statement on win and running the anchor leg.
"We're definitely very excited just to be here. I think we all really enjoy this meet. After yesterday's loss, it made us want to win even more. I did my best to maintain the lead they put up for me. I figured there was a possibility of coming down to the end, but I was ready to put my foot down in the last 150 meters."
Jessica Tonn
2nd Leg - Stanford University
Victory after Thursday's tough loss to Villanova
"Yesterday, we walked away wanting more. Like our coach always says, once the race is done, close the book and move on. We had a lot of motivation coming into this race. Today, was about enjoying the moment and the atmosphere the Penn Relays has to offer."
Elise Cranny
3rd Leg - Stanford University
First Penn Relays Experience
"It is super exciting and really fun to be able to run with these girls here at the Penn Relays. After yesterday's loss, I was just very excited to get another chance."
Rebecca Mehra
1st Leg - Stanford University
Thoughts on Villanova (Seeded 1st) not racing.
"It was disappointing to not see them out there, but we were just doing us. It doesn't matter who is in the race though, we are doing our own thing regardless. Our strategy is not built around who is in the race, more so what is best for us."

Andy Powell
Coach - Oregon University
Comments on back-to-back DMR victories at the Penn Relays
"It was a great team effort. The overall plan for the first three legs was to try to get Ed (Cheserek) the baton in second. The guys executed perfectly."
Edward Cheserek
Anchor - Oregon University
Last lap preparation for Villanova's Jordan Williamsz' effort
"I was prepared.I was just waiting for him to take the lead a little bit. I stayed with him and saved energy for the last 200 meters. My coach told me to sit in second and make the move on the last lap when you feel strong."
Andy Powell
Coach - Oregon University
Comments on new group of guys running the DMR with same result as last year
"We do have some good depth at Oregon. This was the team we were hoping to run. We probably planned this out back in September. A lot of things have to go right to field that team. On Sunday night, Johnny (Gregorek) was in the ER, because he had a toe infection, but he did a great job turning it around. Marcus (Chambers) has been in waiting for the past year, while Mike Berry was our dependable 400 guy. Marcus has now stepped up very well with a good indoor season, and now hes performing well outdoors. We never have the same four guys each year, because there is a lot of moving parts."
Johnny Gregorek
1st Leg - Oregon University
Comments on raising a Penn Relays Wheel like his father
"It feels great. I've always looked up to my dad as a runner. Slowly over the years, I've realized how cool some of his accomplishments here were. I'm happy to keep the tradition going."

Isaiah Moore

Anchor - South Carolina

Wins college men's shuttle hurdles with strong lead

This my first time running anchor and my second time running shuttles.... Felt pretty good today. Team is looking strong. We messed up at Florida, but this time we really just got together. We ran at Florida but we messed up, well, I messed up. And this time we were ready show how we could actually do it and how good we can be.... This is my first time being here at the Relays and it feels really good to be here with such strong support in the crowd.

Jussi Kunervo

3rd Leg - South Carolina

On winning team, and won the 400 Hurdles earlier in the day

Of course a win is always a big thing, last year we didn't make it this far cause I was injured. I'm satisfied that we made it here... My preferred event was the 110s but I obviously do better in the 400s, so that will be my main event in the future...I'm from Finland, and I came to the U.S. To do track and to study. Didn't make the Relays last year cause I was hurt... Starting out I knew we had a twenty meter lead and I just had to hold onto that. I didn't hear anyone coming up on us, but I heard hurdles crashing and I just ignored it.

Jermaine Collier

2nd Leg - South Carolina

Won with team

Felt pretty good out there today, always great to run with my teammates, especially in the hurdles. We work hard and especially in the hurdles cause we didn't get to run last year. One of our teammates was injured so we had to back out which is hard. But we knew we would come back stronger... I told myself just relax and do what comes second nature from practice. I wasn't thinking I was just do what I usually do.... I ran at the relays throughout high school, Trenton central high school.

"I just wanted to stick on them. I wanted to make my move when someone else did. With a lap to go, the leader started to kick it into another gear, and I had the response. No better feeling than being the first to cross the line."

"It's incredible. It's a goal I had ever since last year. I wanted to come back and win something and as the season progressed I started to really mark the mile down and I know it's something I wanted to do. It's great. It's only my second race this season so definitely know I can run faster so I'm excited for the rest of the season." "Next year just keep running fast, keep improving but I'm not sure what I'll actually do at Penn, that's up for grabs right now but definitely will come back here to compete because it's really special."

Athlete - Darien, CT
HSB 3000M Championship
"With 400 to go, I feel like I've been in the perfect place so many times and it's taken four years for me to kind of get my kick to level at which I feel very confident in those last 400 meters. So when I hit the bell lap today, what was going through my mind is I want to do this for my coach, I want to do this for my hometown, for my family. I have so many people here watching me today and I just wanted to deliver." "I learned at indoor nationals that half a second is all that matters sometimes in these championship races so there came a point in the race where I was like who cares about time, I'm just going to try to win this thing and that's what happened." "I'm just so thankful that I had the speed but it wasn't luck. I've been training for months on end on my finishing speed. I've been in the gym. I've been on the track. I've been doing so much rep work to get to the point where I am today so it almost felt like I was just going through the motions in that last lap, rehearsing what I've been doing for months." "Well last year was a little different because it went out a little faster. We came through the mile about five seconds slower this year I think and I knew that in my head. I knew that the timing wasn't going to be the same but like I said I didn't care about that. I think this year I kind of came in as a little bit more of a favorite so there's more pressure to perform and more pressure to deliver so I guess that's the biggest difference between this year and last year."

"I'm just still not realizing everything. I was not even thinking about, you know, the wheel, or winning. I was just trying to race people, and chase down other runners. When I saw that straightaway, I just gave it my all. I could feel the energy of my teammates and my coaches. I usually can't hear anything, but for some reason I could today.The wind was really, really strong but in Oregon we're kind of used to any kind of weather, so I just didn't want it to get in my head. I gave it all." "It's amazing. I don't realize it, I think. Once we get the wheel in our hands, I think I'll start realizing it. I'm just really, really happy about it."

Winner of Triple Jump 13.50 meters and personal best

"That jump was a personal-best for me but I know I can do better. Ive been working on my technique a lot, trying to clean it up. I feel great! All of the elements seemed to come together for me at the same time. I just need to continue to be consistent and stay healthy. My next goal is to win the national championship. I know its going to be hard but you have to set your goals high, right?"

I didn't do too well last week, so it makes today even better. Now we get two-weeks off and then the Big East Conference Championship, then the regionals and then the Nnatonals
